Discipleship Through Worship...

Discipleship Through Christian Education...

Bible Study

Please join us Sunday mornings 9:45-10:45 for a study of the Letter of John—three of the most intriguing and mysterious letters in the New Testament. These three short documents open a window into the life of the early church. The communities to whom these letters are addressed have recently experienced conflict and division in their own ranks over their ways of seeing Jesus. The author writes to clarify the gospel and to reaffirm Jesus as the incarnation of God's love. All are welcome. Come when you can—every week or once in a blue moon.

The Book of Job: Witness to Suffering

Six Week Zoom Bible Study—Tuesday Evenings 6:15-7:30—Begins October 5th

Instructor: Ann Marie Wagstaff - Limited to 10 Participants—Let me know right away if you are interested!

The Book of Job addresses the reality of trauma and suffering in a world created by a God trusted to be all knowing, all powerful, and just. In such a world, why do bad things happen to the innocent and the good? Why does justice not always prevail? And why do some suffer more than others? The Book of Jobs offers no easy answers. Yet readers of diverse faith traditions, as well as no faith tradition, have found the book uncannily helpful and wise. This class is for all curious readers who want to read the book and explore its meaning respectfully with others.

Discipleship Through Serving ...

Donations Requested - June Mowles is looking to start a crafting class, but needs donations of cardboard boxes. If you have any empty oatmeal containers, or boxes that are tall and round, about 9-10 inches tall, please drop them by the church and we can get them to her!
